About Liaison Group

Founded over 30 years ago, we are a well-established and trusted health economy partner, saving millions for reinvestment in health and social care through our Workforce, Financial and Care businesses.

We have a workforce of more than 250 people with a headquarters located in the historic city of Worcester, a technical team in Derby, along with many remote workers across the length and breadth of the UK.

The team

The strategy team forms an incredibly interesting support to the rest of the organisation. Based in Worcester, the team can also sometimes work from home as a remote working function. The team is particularly bright, and is relatively new due to an increase in demand for the services.

The team gets involved in many of the high-level projects which are initiated by senior managers.

Main responsibilities

As part of the research team, this role will support the research requirements of the Liaison Group, providing market analysis and insight that informs product, commercial and business board thinking. The Research Analyst will monitor activity impacting the healthcare market, including competitor activity, workforce trends, financial performance, healthcare structures, technology and legislative changes. Alongside ongoing market research, the Research Analyst will undertake project-based work to help the business make informed decisions on product and market direction.

This is an exciting role for either a graduate looking to put their extensive research skills to practical use in a business environment, or someone with research experience who is looking to join a growing organisation.

Experience and qualifications required

Ideally we are looking for a Graduate with a University degree or college diploma in business, marketing, economics or research related field. However, if you are well-educated, there is a degree of flexibility around the subjects you have studied.

Some experience within an office-based position is essential, ideally within a position which entailed in-depth research, or working closely with the business in another capacity such as project work.

We are looking for someone who is intelligent, with the ability to interpret large amounts of quantitative data, then present this information to others within the business in a legible, suitable format.

You may have worked as a Researcher, Project Administrator, Data Analyst, Business Analyst, Junior Analyst, or Marketing Executive or Marketing Administrator.

Benefits of working at Liaison Group

We believe that working life should be a happy and healthy one.

We offer all staff a wide variety of company benefits as well as the opportunity to get involved in a range of company organised events - from regular physical challenges to bi-annual staff away days and social events.

Our wide range of staff benefits aim to have an impact on both home and working life for all staff, while at Liaison Group.

We offer:

- 23 days holiday initially, which increases annually up to 28 days
- Private healthcare for you and friends and family
- Tax-free childcare
- Contributory pension
- Life assurance of 4 x salary
- Company days/social events
- Free fruit in our offices
- Bonus when you introduce a new colleague to Liaison Group.
